

ADA CERP Application Self-Study Outline 2026

For reference by CE providers submitting applications due in January 2027

This document includes the questions that organizations will be asked to respond to in completing the ADA CERP application. It is provided for informational purposes only. ADA CERP reserves the right to modify questions for clarity and completeness at any time.

Beginning in June 2026, providers submitting ADA CERP applications will do so through an online portal. This outline is provided as a reference and planning tool for providers preparing to submit an application. This outline is subject to further changes and edits as our online portal undergoes testing. This document is for educational purposes only; the application form is subject to further changes before it goes live in the online portal in July 2026.

The application includes self-study questions where you are asked to describe how your organization meets the ADA CERP requirements. The ADA CERP criteria are provided in blue boxes for reference. After each criterion, you will be asked to provide a concise narrative of how your CE program meets the stated requirement. When submitting your application, we encourage you to be succinct, answer the questions directly, and avoid extraneous information.

For some criteria you will be asked to upload certain documents (maximum size of 2MB per document; document types accepted are Word, Excel, and PDF) to demonstrate that your program meets ADA CERP requirements. In order to verify your performance in practice, some questions will ask for documentation from two specific CE activities you offered. You will identify those two courses on the List of CE Activities (Course A and Course B), and then provide documents from those same two courses when requested.

Upload documents only where requested. Do not upload miscellaneous documents.

STANDARD 3. INTEGRITY AND INDEPENDENCE

3.1. Ensure Content is Valid

Providers are responsible for ensuring that their education is fair and balanced and that any clinical content presented supports safe, effective patient care.

1. All recommendations for patient care in accredited continuing education must be based on current science, evidence, and clinical reasoning, while giving a fair and balanced view of diagnostic and therapeutic options.
2. All scientific research referred to, reported, or used in accredited education in support or justification of a patient care recommendation must conform to the generally accepted standards of experimental design, data collection, analysis, and interpretation.
3. Although accredited continuing education is an appropriate place to discuss, debate, and explore new and evolving topics, these areas need to be clearly identified as such within the program and individual presentations. It is the responsibility of accredited providers to facilitate engagement with these topics without advocating for, or promoting, practices that are not, or not yet, adequately based on current science, evidence, and clinical reasoning.
4. Organizations cannot be accredited if they advocate for unscientific approaches to diagnosis or therapy, or if their education promotes recommendations, treatment, or manners of practicing healthcare that are determined to have risks or dangers that outweigh the benefits or are known to be ineffective in the treatment of patients

Describe what you do to ensure that the content of your CE activities meet all four elements of the criteria:

1. Clinical recommendations are based on current science and are fair and balanced.
2. References in support of clinical care recommendations conform to accepted scientific standards.
3. New and evolving topics that are not yet supported by science are clearly identified, and CE activities do not promote practices not yet adequately supported by science, evidence, or clinical reasoning.
4. CE activities do not promote unscientific approaches to diagnosis or therapy, and do not promote recommendations or treatments determined to have risks that outweigh the benefits, or that are ineffective. .

Upload course materials for each activity (if not previously uploaded in General Information section), and attest (in the space provided) that each activity meets these requirements.

Course B

3.2. Prevent commercial bias and marketing in CE

Continuing education must protect learners from commercial bias and marketing.

1. The provider must ensure that all decisions related to the planning, faculty selection, delivery, and evaluation of accredited education are made without any influence or involvement from the owners and employees of an ineligible company (commercial interest).
2. CE must be free of marketing or sales of products or services. Faculty must not actively promote or sell products or services that serve their professional or financial interests during accredited education.
3. The provider must not share the names or contact information of learners with any ineligible company (commercial interest) or its agents without the explicit consent of the individual learner.

Describe what you do to meet the requirements of this Standard. How does your organization:

1. Ensure that all decisions related to the planning, faculty selection and delivery of CE are made without any influence or involvement from owners and employees of commercial interests.

If you enter into joint providership with other organizations that are not ADA CERP recognized to jointly plan or administer CE activities, describe what you do to ensure that your organization does NOT engage in joint providerships with commercial interests.

2. Ensure that no marketing or sales of products or services occur within CE activities.
3. Ensure that names or contact information of learners are not shared with any commercial interest or its agents without the explicit consent of learners.

Upload course materials for each activity (if not previously uploaded in General Information section) and attest (in the space provided) that each activity meets these requirements.

Course A
Course B

3.3. Identify, mitigate and disclose relevant financial relationships

Providers must take the following steps when developing CE. Exceptions are listed at the end of Standard 3.

1. Collect information: Collect information from all planners, faculty, and others in control of educational content about all their financial relationships with ineligible companies within the prior 24 months. There is no minimum financial threshold; individuals must disclose all financial relationships, regardless of the amount, with ineligible companies. Individuals must disclose regardless of their view of the relevance of the relationship to the education. Disclosure information must include:

- a. The name of the ineligible company with which the person has a financial relationship.
- b. The nature of the financial relationship.

Examples of financial relationships include employee, researcher, consultant, advisor, speaker, independent contractor (including contracted research), royalties or patent beneficiary, executive role, and ownership interest. Individual stocks and stock options should be disclosed; diversified mutual funds do not need to be disclosed. Research funding from ineligible companies should be disclosed by the principal or named investigator even if that individual's institution receives the research grant and manages the funds

2. Exclude owners or employees of ineligible companies: Review the information about financial relationships to identify individuals who are owners or employees of ineligible companies. These individuals must be excluded from controlling content or participating as planners or faculty in CE. There are three exceptions to this exclusion—employees of commercial interests can participate as planners or faculty in these specific situations:
  - a. When the content of the activity is not related to the business lines or products of their employer/company.
  - b. When the content of the CE activity is limited to basic science research, such as pre-clinical research and drug discovery, or the methodologies of research, and they do not make care recommendations.
  - c. When they are participating as technicians to teach the safe and proper use of medical devices, and do not recommend whether or when a device is used.
3. Identify relevant financial relationships: Review the information about financial relationships to determine which relationships are relevant. Financial relationships are relevant if the educational content an individual can control is related to the business lines or products of the ineligible company.
4. Mitigate relevant financial relationships: Take steps to prevent all those with relevant financial relationships from inserting commercial bias into content.
  - a. Mitigate relationships prior to the individuals assuming their roles. Take steps appropriate to the role of the individual. For example, steps for planners will likely be different than for faculty and would occur before planning begins.
  - b. Document the steps taken to mitigate relevant financial relationships.
5. Disclose all relevant financial relationships to learners: Disclosure to learners must include each of the following:
  - a. The names of the individuals with relevant financial relationships.
  - b. The names of the ineligible companies with which they have relationships.
  - c. The nature of the relationships.
  - d. A statement that all relevant financial relationships have been mitigated.

Identify commercial interests by their name only. Disclosure to learners must not include ineligible companies' corporate or product logos, trade names, or product group messages.

Disclose absence of relevant financial relationships. Inform learners about planners, faculty, and others in control of content (either individually or as a group) with no relevant financial relationships with ineligible companies.

Learners must receive disclosure information, in a format that can be verified by ADA CERP, before engaging with the continuing education.

Exception: Providers do not need to identify, mitigate, or disclose relevant financial relationships for any CE that is non-clinical, such as leadership or communication skills training.

It is expected that all providers have processes in place to identify, mitigate and disclose all relevant financial relationships of all individuals in control of content, even if some or all of the provider's activities are non-clinical.

Describe:

1. How you collect information from all planners, instructors and others in control of educational content about all their financial relationships with commercial interests.

2. How you meet expectations regarding excluding owners or employees of commercial interests from participating as planners or faculty in CE activities or having control over CE content.
3. The processes(es) you use to determine whether financial relationships disclosed are relevant to the educational content.
4. The steps you use to mitigate all relevant financial relationships for individuals involved in the planning of CE activities, such as planners, editors, and reviewers, and describe the steps you use to mitigate all relevant financial relationships for individuals with roles as speakers, authors, moderators and facilitators.
5. The ways in which you inform learners of the presence or absence of relevant financial relationships of all individuals in control of content, and that all relevant relationships have been mitigated.

Upload the following for Course A and Course B:

- Example of disclosure form used for the activity, including instructions and definitions provided to instructors;
- Compiled list of disclosures from all planners and instructors in this course, including the steps taken to mitigate any relevant financial relationships (use table provided);
- Disclosures and mitigation statement as published to learners.

Course A

Course B

Activity documentation is not required for any course that was non-clinical.

3.4. Manage commercial support appropriately

Standard 3.4 applies only to CE activities that receive financial or in-kind support from commercial interests.

Providers that choose to accept commercial support (defined as financial or in-kind support from ineligible companies (commercial interests) are responsible for ensuring that the education remains independent of the Ineligible company (commercial interest) and that the support does not result in commercial bias or commercial influence in the education. The support does not establish a financial relationship between the ineligible company (commercial interest) and planners, faculty, and others in control of content of the education.

1. Decision-making and disbursement: The provider must make all decisions regarding the receipt and disbursement of the commercial support.
  - a. Ineligible companies (commercial interests) must not pay directly for any of the expenses related to the education or the learners.
  - b. The provider may use commercial support to fund honoraria or travel expenses of planners, faculty, and others in control of content for those roles only.
  - c. The provider must not use commercial support to pay for travel, lodging, honoraria, or personal expenses for individual learners or groups of learners in CE.
The provider may use commercial support to defray or eliminate the cost of the education for all learners.
2. Agreement: The terms, conditions, and purposes of the commercial support must be documented in an agreement between the ineligible company (commercial interest) and the provider. The agreement must be executed prior to the start of the CE. A provider can sign onto an existing agreement between an accredited provider and an ineligible company (commercial supporter) by indicating its acceptance of the terms, conditions, and amount of commercial support it will receive.
3. Accountability: The CERP recognized provider must keep a record of the amount or kind of commercial support received and how it was used, and must produce that accounting, upon request, by the accrediting body or by the company that provided the commercial support.
4. Disclosure to learners: The provider must disclose to the learners the name(s) of the company(ies) that gave the commercial support, and the nature of the support if it was in-kind, prior to the learners engaging in the education. Disclosure must not include the ineligible companies' (commercial interests') corporate or product logos, trade names, or product group messages.

If your organization accepts commercial support,

Describe what you do to ensure your organization meets the expectations of all four elements of Standard 3.4

Upload the following for Course A and Course B:

- Executed letters of agreement with all commercial supporters of these activities.
- Published disclosure of support to learners for these activities (indicate if this information was uploaded in another document)

Course A

Course B

Not required if no commercial support is accepted.

3.5. Manage Ancillary Activities in Conjunction with Accredited CE

Standard 3.5 applies only when there is marketing by commercial interests or nonaccredited education associated with the CE.

Providers are responsible for ensuring that education is separate from marketing by commercial interests—including advertising, sales, exhibits, and promotion—and from nonaccredited education offered in conjunction with CE.

1. Arrangements to allow commercial interests to market or exhibit in association with accredited education must not:
  - a. Influence any decisions related to the planning, delivery, and evaluation of the education.
  - b. Interfere with the presentation of the education.
  - c. Be a condition of the provision of financial or in-kind support from commercial interests for the education.
2. The provider must ensure that learners can easily distinguish between CE and other activities.
  - a. Live continuing education activities: Marketing, exhibits, and nonaccredited education developed by or with influence from a commercial interest/ineligible company or with planners or faculty with unmitigated financial relationships must not occur in the educational space within 30 minutes before or after an accredited education activity. Activities that are part of the event but are not accredited for continuing education must be clearly labeled and communicated as such.
  - b. Print, online, or digital continuing education activities: Learners must not be presented with marketing while engaged in the CE activity. Learners must be able to engage with the accredited education without having to click through, watch, listen to, or be presented with product promotion or product-specific advertisement.
  - c. Educational materials that are part of CE (such as slides, abstracts, handouts, evaluation mechanisms, or disclosure information) must not contain any marketing produced by or for a commercial interest/ineligible company, including corporate or product logos, trade names, or product group messages.
  - d. Information distributed about CE that does not include educational content, such as schedules and logistical information, may include marketing by or for an ineligible company.

3. Commercial interests may not provide access to, or distribute, CE to learners.

If your organization offers ancillary activities in conjunction with CE activities, such as advertising, sales, exhibits or promotion for commercial interests, or non-CE activities for commercial interests,

Describe how your organization meets the three items listed in the criterion above:

1. Arrangements for marketing or exhibit activities do not: (a) influence decisions related to the planning and delivery of the CE, (b) interfere with the presentation of the education, and (c) are not a condition for receiving commercial support (that is, any marketing or sales activities are managed separately from the commercial support).
2. Learners can easily distinguish between CE and other activities through physical separation and clear labeling and communications.
3. Commercial interests are not permitted to distribute or host your CE activities.

Upload publicity or course materials with program schedule for Course A and Course B.

Course A
Course B

Not required if no ancillary advertising, sales, marketing, exhibits or promotion for commercial interests are held in conjunction with any of your CE activities.

STANDARD 4. EVALUATION

4.0. Analyze effectiveness of CE activities

The provider analyzes changes in learners' knowledge, performance or practice, and/or patient outcomes achieved as a result of the provider's CE programs.

Describe:

1. The strategies you use to obtain data on changes in learners' knowledge, performance or practice, or if applicable, patient outcomes, as a result of participating in your CE activities.
2. What conclusions you reached as to whether or not you were able to change learner knowledge, performance or practice, or, if applicable, patient outcomes.

Upload the following information for Course A and Course B:

- A copy of the instrument(s) you used to evaluate changes in learners' knowledge, performance, or practice, or patient outcomes, as a result of participation in this activity.
- Summative data or information gathered from this activity regarding changes achieved in learners' knowledge, performance or practice, or patient outcomes.

Course B

STANDARD 5. PATIENT PROTECTION

A provider that offers CE courses in which patients are treated has protocols and procedures in place to ensure patient safety and privacy, including the following:

- a. Ensuring that participants and instructors treating patients are in compliance with any applicable dental licensure laws in the jurisdiction where the course is being held;
